Northwestern University - Department of Sociology

Crime, Law, & Society Workshop Fall 2018
Select Tuesdays, 3:30 P.M. to 4:50 P.M.
Parks Hall - Room 222
1881 Sheridan Road, Evanston, IL 60208

January 8
Sharlyn Grace and Ruby Pinto, Chicago Community Bond Fund
“Organizing to End Money Bond and Pretrial Incarceration in Illinois”

January 22
Andrew Papachristos, Northwestern University - Sociology
“The Social Structure of Police Misconduct”
(This talk is co-sponsored with the Urban and Community Workshop)

January 29
Hillary Potter, University of Colorado Boulder - Ethnic Studies
TBA

February 12
Ayodeji Perrin, Northwestern University - Political Science

February 26
Magda Boutros, Northwestern University - Sociology

The Crime, Law, and Society Workshop is a joint effort by the Sociology and Legal Studies Departments designed to bring together an interdisciplinary group of graduate students and faculty interested in the fields of law and society, punishment, and criminology. Graduate students from all levels and departments are invited to participate. It meets approximately 3 to 4 times per quarter. For more information, please contact one of the student coordinators: Erica Banks (ericabanks2015@u.northwestern.edu) or Magda Boutros (magda.boutros@u.northwestern.edu).